

Christopher Juse

Estimator / Project Manager

BIO

Christopher started his career in demolition and environmental remediation as a marketing assistant with URS/AECOM in 2007. Continuing his career, he has grown from project coordinator in the field to estimating and project management specializing in demolition and abatement. Throughout his 13+ years in the industry, Christopher has built a portfolio of projects including public, private, commercial, education, and hospitality sectors. He has estimated projects ranging from thousands to multi-millions. Christopher's proactive approach and attention to detail makes him valuable and best-in class in any project from beginning to end.
